
The Stage Management Special Topics class conducted a survey in October 2011 to explore the connections that the UI Theatre Department has to American regional theatres. Although we may sometimes feel geographically isolated, Iowa has a network that reaches major theatres in over 40 states. From this survey, we have created a social network designed to help students connect with potential employers.

As you apply for jobs and internships, consider using this document. If you would like more information on a particular theatre or a region, check the list to see which faculty, staff, and graduate students have connections. A "Personal Connection" means that the department members know people currently working at the theatre or have worked there themselves. A "Colleagues/Knowledge" means that they know people who have worked at the theatre or that they are able to provide some background information on the theatre.
